Grow Your Business with FB Groups

Welcome PM for the "Business Owners Who Think BIG" group

Welcome to the Facebook group Business Owners Who Think Big. I am so happy that you are here. This is truly a network of business owners who are interested in growing their businesses and looking to connect with like-minded business owners and entrepreneurs. If you have the passion for success and desire to help others – you are going to fit right in!

You can start by introducing yourself here: http://on.fb.me/1j3nUZa

I also wanted to make sure you understand the rules of this group. In order for us to have a comfortable place to network and connect, we all agree together to abide by certain guidelines. You can find all of rules here: http://on.fb.me/1NHGT70

And here are the main highlights...

1. Only post your promos on Mondays, and only in a dedicated promo thread (that includes links to free and paid resources, webinars, events, etc...). All others will be removed.

2. You also get a chance to promote yourself and your business every Wednesdays by participating in Virtual Networking.

3. Feel free to ask any questions of the group on Thursdays (questions are OK any day of the week if you are truly asking for advice or help for your business). Please save marketing research questions for Thursdays.

4. Sunday is the day to share your MEMEs, funny, inspirational or motivational quotes - have fun with that. You can post directly to the group, or share from your own page.

5. Posts that violate the rules will be removed. If you are not sure why your post was removed - please check the rules on the right side of the group page. If you still have questions - please contact me.

Repeated violators will be removed from the group. Thank you for understanding - let's keep this group SPAM free.

Again, thank you for your involvement,

Looking forward to thinking BIG with you,

Alina
